

I drive 3000 miles per month and get tired of trying to find suitable content on public radio worth listening too. I pay my $10 per month for a service that provides the information I want without the commercials. Why should we protect one business model over another. Give me what I pay for.